SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. The High Command of the Yugoslav Air Force has ordered ten jet-propelled airplanes of the "AV-52" type built in Czechoslovakia.
2. These machines are similar to the German "ME-262" airplanes, and are equipped with a "JUMO 004" reactor. It is expected that the airplanes will be delivered by the end of May 1948.
3. Two Russian jet-propelled airplanes of the "Latov" ("I-115") type, landed on 25 March 1948 at the Borongaj airport from Sombor. These machines are twin-engined light bombers, equipped with two "JUMO 004" reactors, and reach a maximum speed of about 380 kilometers per hour. They bear the "811/B/II" marking.
4. Similar aircraft landed at the Zagreb airport prior to 23 April 1948.
